

The Hands Of The Wrong People
Spring Flakes

The Hands of the Wrong People is the musical vehicle of Scotland-bred, Berlin-based visual artist Dominic Hislop, accompanied live and on album by drummer Robert Wiesner, and most recently by bassist Plus Fox live. They released 2 eps in Germany, and Spring Flakes is their first full length.

Dominic's songs draw from such seemingly disparate genres such as 80s Scottish pop, 90s Chicago style post-rock and contemporary underground folk. Imagine the jazz-influenced rock of Karate mixed with the pseudo-Chic funk of Orange Juice and the pop jangle of early Aztec Camera, and you begin to get a sense of the sound of Spring Flakes. The album addresses relationships & politics in the same breath, becoming a subtle form of protest music performed on the deceptively traditional lineup of amplified acoustic guitar, drums & bass.

HANDS OF THE WRONG PEOPLE

Spring Flakes

PEAR011 | RELEASE DATE 06.10.08

1. Four Letter °
2. Undertow
3. Sweet Storms ^
4. Bad Apples ^
5. Long Shadow
6. Dog °
7. Stigmata
8. Border
9. Goodwill Kill ^
10. Bad Icon

° Recommended Tracks

^ Contains Profanity

Influences / For Fans Of

Herman Dune
Aztec Camera
Make Believe
Geoff Farina / Karate / Glorytellers
Felt
The Sea and Cake / Sam Prekop
Curtains
Songs:Ohia
Wave Pictures

peapod RECORDINGS

207.332.3511 | info@peapodrecordings.com
PO Box 2631 South Portland, Maine 04116-2631

For hi-res photos, audio clips & news:
peapodrecordings.com/hands.php